ABSTRACT

The current strategic plan of the South Carolina State Library contains five goals: provide information resources and services to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina; provide statewide programs to support local library services; serve as the advocate for libraries in South Carolina; encourage cooperation among libraries of all types; and continuously improve State Library operations and services. This report highlights the State Library's progress toward meeting these goals. The report consists of seven main sections: (1) Organization and Operations; (2) Activities--FY 2002; (3) South Carolina State Library publications; (4) Statistical Summary; (5) LSTA (Library Services and Technology Act) in South Carolina; (6) Financial Statement; and (7) South Carolina State Library Staff. Activities, service, and other information discussed in the second section include: state library users; state library collection; DISCUS--South Carolina's virtual library; consultant services; grant administration; children's services; continuing education; public library construction; marketing/public information services; legislation; collaborations; the South Carolina Library Network (SCLN); Internet/Telecommunications Project; South Carolina Group Database Licensing Project; staff development; volunteer program; and facilities. Two appendixes provide library directories (Public Library Board Chairmen; public libraries; colleges and universities; and libraries in state institutions) and library statistics (public library statistics; public libraries, annual statistics, FY 2002; South Carolina institutional libraries statistics, FY 2001-2002; and South Carolina college and university libraries statistics, FY 2001-2002.) SOUTH CAROLINA
STATE LIBRARY

THE HONORABLE JAMES H. HODGES, Governor of South Carolina, to the Honorable Members of the General Assembly, and the citizens of South Carolina

As can be seen by the highlights listed below, the South Carolina State Library continued providing programs and services to the people of the Palmetto State in spite of unprecedented budget cuts. Demands for services are increasing, and the agency is able to meet these needs despite a reduced workforce. It is, therefore, a pleasure to submit this summary of the 2001-2002 activities of the State Library.

Highlights of the year's accomplishments include:

- Development of strategies for continued delivery of services while still meeting mandated budget reductions
- Initiation of an agency self study
- Compliance with Budget Proviso 72.95 (Internet Filtering) and assisting public libraries with the same
- Securing inclusion of public libraries in the state lottery appropriations ($1.5 million)
- Receipt of a Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation grant for computer training programs for public library staff
- Receipt of the FY 02 Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS) grant award
- Disbursement of $5,856,289 in state aid to county libraries and federal grants awards totaling $603,840
- Helping public libraries secure approximately $281,144 in E-Rate telecommunications refunds
- Facilitation of a group discount for the licensing of selected OCLC FirstSearch databases for public libraries
- Relocation of The USC, School of Library and Information Science, BEST Center to the State Library
- Installation of firewall software to protect of State Library networks
- Participation in 100 marketing/promotional events to showcase State Library services
- Participation of 81,797 children in the 2002 statewide Summer Reading Program
- Design and creation of new DISCUS access pages for K-12 schools and a 17% increase in DISCUS usage

I. ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

The South Carolina State Library is an independent state agency governed by a board of seven members appointed by the Governor, with one member from each Congressional District and one from the state at large. Members serve five-year terms and may be reappointed.

Statutory authority for the South Carolina State Library is provided by Title 60, Chapter 1 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina. Originally authorized in 1929 and known as the State Library Board, the public library extension agency was first funded in 1943. It was redesignated the South Carolina State Library with a broad range of responsibilities by Act 464 of 1969. The legislation was recodified, and new functions were authorized by Act 178 of 1985.

The Director, who is responsible for the operation of the agency, is appointed by and is responsible to the Board of the State Library. The director is assisted by a deputy director. The work of the library is performed by six departments. A brief description of each follows:

- Administrative Services. Provides support services in the areas of budgeting, financial management, human resources, procurement, public relations, secretarial support and facilities management.

- Talking Book Services. Provides library service to individuals who are unable to use conventional print materials due to blindness or a physical handicap. Reading materials are provided in special formats (recorded, large print, and Braille).

- Library Development. Provides consultant services to public libraries to further the development and improvement of library services statewide.

- Information Services. Coordinates DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library. Provides research services to state government agencies. Provides statewide reference and interlibrary loan service to supplement local library resources.

- Network Services. Operates the South Carolina Library Network through the maintenance of a computer-based library network and communications system which facilitates sharing of library resources and services.

- Technical Services. Acquires, catalogs, classifies, and makes available all materials used in the library program.

ORGANIZATION AND OPERATIONS

The South Carolina State Library's activities are guided by its strategic plan approved by the South Carolina State Library Board. The current three-year plan covers the period FY 2000-2003. The State Library's management team develops the plan, based upon input from staff and constituents. An annual business plan is developed from the strategic plan with responsibilities for implementation clearly articulated.

Highlights of the strategic plan include:

Mission statement: The South Carolina State Library's mission is to improve library services throughout the state and to ensure all citizens access to libraries and information resources adequate to meet their needs.

Vision statement: The South Carolina State Library is a major leader in the planning and implementation of effective informational and library services for the people of South Carolina. It is a vital component of the State's information infrastructure.

The current strategic plan contains five strategic goals:

- Strategic Goal A: Provide information resources and services to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina.
- Strategic Goal B: Provide statewide programs to support local library services.
- Strategic Goal C: Serve as the advocate for libraries in South Carolina.
- Strategic Goal D: Encourage cooperation among libraries of all types.
- Strategic Goal E: Continuously improve State Library operations and services.

This report highlights the State Library's progress towards meeting these goals.

II. ACTIVITIES – FY 2002

Strategic Goal A: "Provide information resources and library services to meet the needs of the people of South Carolina."

State Library Users

The State Library is a research center for all South Carolinians. Everyone may use the materials in the State Library's facilities in Columbia. Direct loan is available to state government employees and members of the General Assembly.

People across the state may borrow items from the State Library's collections on interlibrary loan through their local libraries that participate in the South Carolina Library Network coordinated by the State Library. The 298 participating libraries by type are:

Public libraries	54
Institutional libraries	4
Academic libraries	53
School libraries	149
Special libraries	38

South Carolina Library Network users may search the State Library online catalog, WebLION, via the Internet and request materials using interactive forms.

Individuals with qualifying disabilities that prevent them from using conventional print materials are served directly by the State Library's Talking Book Services program. Eligible users include those unable to hold a book, turn pages, or see normal size print and those with a learning disability or a temporary disability due to injury or illness.

Usage Statistics FY 2002 - Registered Borrowers

Libraries	298
Talking Book Services Users	7,192

Circulation

State Government Service	57,150
Libraries	32,769
Talking Book Services	242,433

State Library Collections

The Research Collection is composed mainly of non-fiction materials selected to supplement the holdings of local libraries and to support state government research. This centralized collection reduces unnecessary duplication of expensive and specialized materials in state agencies and in local libraries. The collection includes books, periodicals, newspapers, state and federal documents, audiovisual materials and electronic resources.

The Talking Book Services Collection contains reading materials for all ages in special media (cassette, large print, Braille and disc). A descriptive video collection provides blind and visually impaired library users with access to recreational movies equivalent to those enjoyed by sighted users of public library video collections. Accessible newspapers are provided through the State Library's sponsorship of Newsline® Network for the Blind.

The Grants Research Collection includes printed directories, guides and electronic resources to assist nonprofit organizations, government agencies, and citizens in locating grants. The State Library serves as an official cooperating collection of the Foundation Center's nationwide network of more than 200 cooperating collections.

South Carolina Fiction Cooperative Collection, a joint venture of the public libraries of the state and the State Library, contains older fiction titles identified as the "last copy" in a particular public library's collection. This collection ensures continued access, through interlibrary loan, to citizens across the state in need of older fiction titles.

DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library

To provide all South Carolinians with equal access to information resources, the South Carolina State Library administers DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library, an electronic library of essential information and learning resources. DISCUS provides subscription databases that are accessible from the Internet in all of the state's public libraries, public school libraries and classrooms, selected K-12 private schools and public and private colleges. All DISCUS resources are available from home or office Internet accounts of all South Carolinians twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week.

South Carolina was among the first states in the country to provide such a wide variety of access of information resources to all its libraries. Training is provided to the library, curriculum resource and technology staffs of participating institutions to help them make effective use of DISCUS.

Information Services

The State Library has a highly skilled research and technical staff to assist users in locating information to meet their needs. Research librarians conduct complex searches in response to questions from state government employees and, upon referral from local libraries, the general public. Information services staff continuously develops web pages that enable the public to make effective use of the vast amount of information available on the Internet. Specialized web sites such as the Lion's Den provides organized links to essential information that assists state government employees in meeting the needs of citizens. The web site, "SConnects@the Library" assists public librarians in providing useful links for all local library users. The site includes selected links to informational web sites in topical areas such as education, business, government and general reference and includes special links for children and teens.

South Carolina State Documents Depository Program

The South Carolina State Library administers the State Documents Depository System which ensures local citizens access to state government publications. State agencies supply the State Library with 15 copies of publications. The State Library catalogs and processes the publications, retaining 3 copies for its permanent collection. The remaining copies are distributed to the Library of Congress and the following 11 participating in-state depository libraries:

- Clemson University
- Coastal Carolina University
- College of Charleston
- Francis Marion University
- Greenville County Library
- Lander University
- South Carolina State University
- Spartanburg County Library
- USC-Aiken
- USC-Beaufort
- Winthrop University

The State Library added 4,220 state documents to its collection bringing the total to 81,622. Increasingly more state publications are being issued only in electronic format for access via the Internet. The State Library staff identifies electronic publications, catalogs them and makes paper copies for preservation purposes. The South Carolina state documents collection is the world's largest repository of official South Carolina state publications.

Strategic Goal B: "Provide statewide programs to support local library services."

Library Development Consultant Services

The State Library consultants provide information, suggest and discuss possible courses of action, and lend assistance and support to public library directors and staff; trustees; Friends groups; state and local government officials; and library and other organizations. Advice and assistance are provided on a variety of topics including, but not limited to, planning for new library construction, budget management, personnel management, fundraising, children's services, collection development, automation and electronic resources, grants application processes and library legislation.

Grants Administration

The State Library manages state and federal grant programs to assist local libraries in improving services through projects that invest in education, access, technology, tools for the future, preservation of local history, and promotion of local community values and diversity.

State grants – For the past six years, public library supporters have campaigned vigorously to increase the State Aid appropriation for local county libraries to $2.00 per capita with a minimum grant of $40,000 per county. Due to the continuing state budget crisis, per capita State Aid was reduced to approximately $1.63 (using the 1990 Census) with the $40,000 minimum grant per county remaining intact.

State Aid regulations require that participating libraries provide countywide service, maintain levels of county funding, and meet certain standards of service. Qualifying libraries are required to develop strategic plans and may use State Aid funds to supplement staff salaries, purchase collection materials, purchase or lease equipment and computer hardware and software. Occasionally, state bond funds are designated for special local library construction projects and are placed in the State Library's budget for disbursement. In many instances, without State Aid, small and medium sized public libraries would have great difficulty maintaining service hours, improving library collections and upgrading information technology.

Federal grants – The South Carolina State Library administers federal aid to South Carolina libraries under the Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA -- P.L. 104-208). LSTA guidelines provide that grant funds are used for projects that invest in:

- Education--lifelong learning, education of library professionals, development of educational resources that make resources easier to find and use, collaborative projects that bring rich and innovative resources to students, families and the public.
- Access--better reach under-represented groups, those in remote locations, multi-lingual and multi-cultural audiences, people with disabilities or mobility restrictions, and non-traditional audiences; improve basic and technical literacy; improve ability to find and use information.
- Tools for the future--acquire the best technology, explore efficient use of digitization, develop approaches to preservation, develop and test standards for electronic resources, provide equitable levels of technology resources to all communities.
- Families and Children--support literacy and parenting programs, after school and summer enrichment programs, homework programs, support sharing of values and life experiences and interaction of family members across generations; support college and career planing, job preparation and search, and transition to adulthood for teens and young adults.
- Communities--support program promoting community values, ethnic and cultural diversity, citizen participation and cultural tourism, improve information on health and safety, economic revitalization, job training, and other government programs.
- Cultural Heritage--promote preservation of holdings, especially those related to multi-cultural heritage; improve public awareness of importance of preservation.

Statewide projects partially funded with LSTA funds include: DISCUS—South Carolina's Virtual Library; children's programs; continuing education programs; public library automation; county wide access to library service; and literary programming.

Grants-in-aid Distributed to Local Libraries

State Aid to counties	$5,856,289
Other State funds (i.e. bond bill)	$396,212
Federal funds	$603,840

Children's Services

One of the South Carolina State Library's major projects is improving library services to children. The federal grant program offers aid to local libraries for the expansion and enhancement of library services and programs that invest in families and children. Related activities and collaborative projects include:

- Summer Reading - The State Library, in cooperation with the state's public libraries, sponsors a statewide summer reading program that is designed to encourage children to use their summer vacation time to enhance their reading skills and to expand their personal reading interests. The 2002 annual summer reading program theme, "world.wide.reading@yourlibrary", celebrating books and stories of countries from around the world, attracted 81,797 participating children, ages three to eleven, from across the state. This is a 6% increase from FY 01.
- Early Literacy and School Readiness - The South Carolina State Library developed a number of initiatives to support early literacy and school readiness, including the Early Childhood Teacher Resource and Video Collection, which provides videos, through interlibrary loan, on early childhood development and education. Public libraries borrow these materials on behalf of local childcare staff and others working with young children. Many of these videos may be used to meet state requirements for annual training hours, while others are more useful for parents and parent groups.
- First Steps to School Readiness Program – This statewide initiative benefits libraries. The Director of the South Carolina State Library serves on the First Steps State Board of Trustees, which is made up of a diverse group of individuals representing various state agencies and key community stakeholders.

  County libraries are represented on First Steps County Partnership Boards. 3% of FY 02 First Steps spending on Parent Education and Family Strengthening initiatives was for library-based literacy programs. In FY 02 there was an increase in First Steps sponsored collaborations where county libraries worked more closely with school districts, parent educators, and childcare providers. Other local library programs included story hours in child care facilities, mobile library programs (bookmobiles that deliver materials to where children and their families are located), and the establishment of a toy and book lending library program set up in a parenting center.

To address the issue of underutilization of library resources for young children, 11 counties implemented library programs. Children's librarians staffed 7 of the 11 library programs. For FY 02, the First Steps program estimates that library programs served over 2,500 children in more than 34 4K classrooms and 76 child care settings.

- Implementation of Internet Filtering – In response to Budget Proviso 72.95, the State Library provided consultative services to assist libraries in taking steps necessary to install filters for the elimination or reduction of access to Web sites displaying pornographic content deemed objectionable for viewing by children.

Continuing Education

The South Carolina State Library administers a continuing education program designed to enhance the skills of local library staff and state government employees in using library services. Research and technical skills are improved through State Library sponsored workshops, through disbursement of federal grants that enable select members of local library staff to attend various nationwide training opportunities, and through cooperative training ventures with other organizations. In developing its continuing education activities, the State Library staff consults with local public library directors, the University of South Carolina School of Library and Information Science and the South Carolina Library Association. Training needs are also identified through the use of surveys and focus groups.

Continuing Education Activities –	FY 2002
Training events	174
% Increase over FY 01	34%
Participants	2724
% Increase over FY 01	33%

In FY 02 the Gates Training Initiative began with a $100,290 grant from the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for extended training of public library staff. Courses in Microsoft Office products, Internet security, Web design, PC Maintenance, and Networking were provided through State Library partnerships with companies and organizations such as Itech Solutions and the Southeastern Library Network (SOLINET). More than 400 members of public library staffs received training. 93% of them evaluated the classes as very good to excellent. NOTE: This Initiative is a continuation of a 1999 program that awarded grants to libraries nationwide to deliver access to computers and digital information to patrons in low-income communities. South Carolina was awarded $4.3 million for its public libraries.

Public Library Construction

Adequate facilities are necessary for quality library service. The State Library estimates that almost 60% of the 184 existing library outlets need renovation, expansion or replacement. Presently, there are no federal or state funds available for public library construction. Several libraries have received state funding from bond bills and supplemental appropriations bills; however, construction programs must be thoroughly developed to address all necessary issues. Current funding mechanisms do not take the place of such a program.

Consultant services on building needs were provided for the following libraries:

Strategic Goal C: "Serve as the advocate for libraries in South Carolina."

Marketing/Public Information Services

Marketing and public information activities are incorporated into all agency programs and services. These activities inform South Carolina's citizens, members of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches of government, other elected officials, state employees, elementary and secondary school officials, directors and staffs of public and other libraries about programs and services provided and administered by the South Carolina State Library. To the extent that funding allows, a statewide public information program, designed to promote South Carolina libraries and to make the general public aware of their myriad resources, is coordinated by the agency.

Major public information activities:

- Collaborated with the Association of Public Library Administrators (APLA) to outline a public relations campaign with the theme, "Faces of South Carolina Library Users." The campaign was designed to showcase photographs of South Carolina public library users and their personal statements about the value and role of public libraries in their lives.
- Awarded federal grants to six county libraries for participation in the Viburnum Family Literacy Conference. State Library Staff also participated and made a commitment to host the 2002 conference. The Viburnum Literacy Project, sponsored by the Library of Congress, Center for the Book, provides for the planning and promotion of family literacy programs among rural public libraries and their community partners.
- Hosted the annual meeting of the Friends of South Carolina Libraries which provides an opportunity to showcase State Library facilities and services while supporting and providing guidance to statewide Friends groups.
- Collaborated with the Palmetto Book Alliance (PBA) to research the feasibility of developing and designing a South Carolina literary map for statewide distribution. PBA exists to preserve South Carolina's rich literary past.
- Celebrated the grand opening of the BEST (Books, Evaluation, Selection and Training) Center, which is administered by the University of South Carolina's School of Library and Information Science and is now housed at the South Carolina State Library. First Lady Rachel Hodges attended the ribbon cutting ceremony. The South Carolina Commission on Higher Education has designated the BEST Center as the state's official preview center for recently published children's books and other learning resources for children.

- Participated as one of the principal sponsors of the South Carolina Book Festival—the SC Humanities Council's annual celebration of the written word. State Library services are exhibited during this festival.
- Showcased, at the 2002 "Computers in Libraries Conference" held in Washington, D.C., State Library automation staff expertise that led to the agency's installation of fully accessible computer workstations for use by readers with disabilities.
- Co-sponsored with the South Carolina Humanities Council, The State newspaper, and the Richland County Public Library "South Carolina Reads", a six-month project aimed at getting South Carolinians reading the same book at the same time and discussing issues along the way.
- Conducted major promotional activities at professional conferences for DISCUS – South Carolina's Virtual Library. These included exhibiting at the South Carolina Educational Technology Conference where the DISCUS exhibit booth attracted 300 visitors. Also promotional mailings were sent to K-12 schools to announce the design and creation of new DISCUS access pages.
- Engaged in 38 promotional events to showcase the Talking Book Services program. Events included exhibiting, presentations to professional and community groups, and tours of the library.
- Celebrated the 20th Anniversary of State Documents Depository Legislation at the annual Notable Documents ceremony that recognizes the ten outstanding South Carolina State government publications. Thirty state government officials attended.
- Published "News for South Carolina Libraries", "New Resources" and "News about Talking Book Services." Successfully launched an electronic replacement for "New Resources" under the new title, "What's New@SCSL."
- Launched a state government listserv with a "message of the month" feature that highlights information of use to state government employees. One feature during the year was "Great Internet Resources in SC" which highlighted the SC State House Network, the SC Statistical Abstract and other resources.
- Participated in a total of 100 promotional events during FY 02.

Legislation

- The State Library was successful in having public libraries included as beneficiaries of the South Carolina Education Lottery Act enacted by the General Assembly. The Act provides that up to $1.5 million (37 cents per capita) of the net lottery proceeds will go to the State Library for disbursement to county public libraries on a per capita basis. The libraries may use the funds for information technology.
- The Attorney General issued an opinion on Proviso 72.95 of the State Appropriations Act that specified that any library receiving state funds in any way, other than a library in an institution of higher education, must use web-filtering software on a proportion of their computer workstations. The opinion called for filtering of 90% of public library Internet access computers. The FY 03 Appropriation Act clarified the 90% rule.
- Because the state files for an E-Rate refund for the Internet service it provides to public libraries, the Division of the State Chief Information Officer (CIO) was assisted with contacts to public libraries for submission of the form "Certification by Administrative authority to Billed Entity of Compliance with the Children's Internet Protection Act." The E-rate is one of four support mechanisms funded through a Universal Service fee charged to companies that provide interstate and/or international telecommunications services. E-Rate refunds are jeopardized when the state cannot provide proof that public libraries are already filtering or in the process of installing compliant filtering software.
- The Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) Report and Evaluation for FY 02 was completed and submitted to the Institute of Museum and Library Services. The State Library received its FY02 LSTA grant award. Six members of South Carolina's House Delegation agreed to co-sponsor legislation to reauthorize the LSTA. The State Library Director was a member of the South Carolina delegation that attended the American Library Association's (ALA) "Library Legislative Day" in Washington, D.C.
- Budget cuts approved by the State Legislature had a significant impact on the State Library's ability to provide and maintain service levels and critical financial support to the state's public libraries. At the beginning of FY 02 the State Library suffered an 11.32% budget cut which was apportioned between State Aid to county libraries and State Library operations. Additional action that withdrew authorized carry forward funds further reduced the State Library budget. Only one budget increase request was submitted to the legislature--$2 per capita in State Aid to county Libraries using the 2000 Census. Additional budget cuts continued throughout the remainder of the FY necessitating an internal review of all agency operations.

Collaborations

The State Library works with other state agencies and organizations to enhance awareness of the important role libraries have in improving education and quality of life in South Carolina.

- The State Library Director serves as a member of the First Steps Board and the K-12 Technology Committee. A DISCUS annual report is prepared and submitted to the K-12 Technology Committee.
- The State Library works closely with the South Carolina Access to Information Technology Coordinating Committee that was established to make recommendations to the General Assembly on requirements needed for South Carolina to comply with Section 508 of the Americans With Disabilities Act. The State Library Director chaired the Locations Subcommittee, and members of the State Library's Network Services and Talking Book Services staff served on committees dealing with automation and web accessibility, including the SC Access to Technology Committee (ATEC).
- The State Library jointly funds a position at the South Carolina Humanities Council with the Council and the South Carolina Arts Commission. This project develops public programs throughout the state to promote literary arts across South Carolina.
- The South Carolina State Library and the School of Library and Information Science at the University of South Carolina co-sponsor the Palmetto Book Alliance (PBA). The PBA is the South Carolina affiliate of the Library of Congress Center for the Book. Its mission is to celebrate reading, books, authors and the rich literary heritage of South Carolina. The PBA envisions itself as a virtual center for the book in South Carolina, promoting and encouraging participation in book-related programs and activities sponsored by various groups. The PBA continued work on a literary map for South Carolina.
- The State Library Director serves as an ex officio member to the combined executive board of the Library Director's Forum (representing the directors of libraries of publicly supported institutions of higher education) and the Library Directors Council (representing the directors of libraries in private institutions). Under the sponsorship of this combined board, the Partnership Among South Carolina Academic Libraries (PASCAL) was established. PASCAL's goal is to establish a virtual academic network of collaborative ventures. Core programs will include a union catalog of academic holdings, collaborative collection development, consortial purchasing, universal borrowing, statewide digital collections and cooperative professional development and training.

- The State Library's Children's Consultant serves on the state's School Library Media Services Advisory Council, the BEST Center Advisory Committee and the State Board of Education Curriculum Committee. The South Carolina State Library works in collaboration with the University of South Carolina's School of Library and Information Science to house the BEST (Books, Evaluation, Selection and Training) Center.
- The State Library's Director of Talking Book Services serves on the Digital Long Term Planning Group Team of the Library of Congress, National Library Service for the Blind and Physically Handicapped and participates as an ex-officio member of the Advisory Council of the South Carolina Commission for the Blind.

Strategic Goal D: "Encourage cooperation among libraries of all types."

The South Carolina Library Network (SCLN)
Coordinated by the South Carolina State Library, the South Carolina Library Network supports the efforts of local libraries to meet the information needs of all South Carolinians through the sharing of library resources. Using WebLION, the State Library's web-based catalog, public, academic, high school and special libraries participating in the South Carolina Library Network can search and place electronic requests for titles held in the State Library's collection. FY 02 was a year of expansion and improvement of WebLION. Not only can users search the State Library's collection, but they can also simultaneously search the catalogs of the College of Charleston, The Citadel, Francis Marion University, and The University of South Carolina. Additionally, individuals and libraries registered to borrow materials from the State Library can also use WebLION to review personal borrower accounts and renew materials on loan to them. The State Library also offers electronic interactive forms that allow libraries to place interlibrary loan requests with the State Library via the Internet. FY 02 ended with preliminary work that will result in a web-based version of a "South Carolina Library Directory" which will contain information on more than 500 South Carolina libraries. The new directory will give citizens a convenient and easily accessible source of information about South Carolina's valuable repositories of information.

Internet/Telecommunications Project
State Library staff provided continuing support for this project which is intended to strengthen the resources of South Carolina public libraries through public access to the Internet. The State Library cooperated with the Division of the Chief Information Officer of the State Budget and Control Board to provide Internet access in these libraries. As this project is an extension of provisions of a statewide K-12 Internet initiative, South Carolina students benefit. The State Library's work with the Division of the CIO is ongoing as it serves to champion a policy that supports the public's right to free access to government information.

The State Library's consultants work with public libraries that guide them in taking full advantage of the Universal Service Program (E-Rate) refunds is an adjunct to this project. E-Rate ensures that all eligible libraries and schools have affordable telecommunications access. During FY 02 the majority of E-Rate refunds were for telecommunications. Refund amounts ranged from $778 to $42,000. The State Library's work with public library directors resulted in a total of approximately $281,144 E-Rate dollars being refunded to public libraries statewide.

South Carolina Group Database Licensing Project

For the third year, the State Library facilitated a group discount on the purchase (license) of selected OCLC FirstSearch databases for interested libraries. Twenty-one institutions realized significant savings on databases that are beyond the scope of the DISCUS mission—to provide essential information resources for all citizens. Although public library interest in group Database purchases has never been as strong as the State Library desires, academic libraries have identified this as an important priority of their developing cooperative endeavor, PASCAL (Partnership Among South Carolina Academic Libraries). The State Library has positioned its group database purchase initiative to be transferable to PASCAL when the partnership has achieved viability. A strong and skilled staff or an efficient administrative structure capable of making a transfer that causes no undue disruption to the database group purchase initiative must be evident before this transfer can be realized.

Strategic Goal E: "Continuously improve State Library operations and services."

Staff Development

The South Carolina State Library's most valuable resource is its staff. The agency operates with a Board approved Staff Development Policy. Already a relatively small agency in terms of FTEs, the State Library staff continued to decrease when budget reductions made it impossible to replace staff vacating positions due to retirement or relocation. As a result, staff had to constantly learn new skills and competencies, primarily through on-the-job training. Efforts are made to identify continuing education opportunities for staff at all levels. Whenever appropriate and to address agency needs, the State Library uses work teams (often crossing formal departmental lines). Teams include but are not limited to the areas of collection development, LSTA, home page/web administration, Intranet, public relations, strategic planning, accountability and DISCUS.

Because the State Library sponsors a number of continuing education opportunities for public library staff and state government employees, State Library staff is able to take advantage, at no additional cost to the agency, of these opportunities, which have included computer and database training activities, customer service and interlibrary loan workshops, and a variety of other training activities. Additionally, as the budget permits, staff with active memberships in professional associations such as the American Library Association, South Carolina Library Association, the Special Libraries Association, the Southern Conference of Librarians Serving the Blind and Physically Handicapped, and the like are encouraged to attend annual conferences through agency provided travel reimbursement.

Volunteer Program

The State Library's volunteer program exists to provide assistance in meeting the needs of citizens who rely on the materials and resources of the Talking Book Services program. Volunteers play a vital role in providing library services to South Carolina's citizens with blindness, low vision or other conditions that make the use of standard printed materials difficult or impossible. Volunteers reach out to those who may need, but are unaware of, the library's free talking book services. They assist with staffing exhibit booths at major Columbia area events that target people of all ages with qualifying disabilities. Volunteer narrators make it possible for the library to record books and magazines about South Carolina or by South Carolina authors.

To ensure that audio books sent to patrons are in good condition, volunteers serve as cassette book inspectors. They operate professional tape duplication equipment to produce copies of recorded magazines and assist with packaging recorded materials for shipment to citizens all over the state. The BellSouth Telephone Pioneers, a nationally known volunteer organization, maintain and repair all of the program's talking book playback equipment. During FY 02 an average of 16 volunteers per month contributed a total of 1,614 hours of service. BellSouth Telephone Pioneers repaired 755 talking book players.

As an adjunct to the volunteer program, the State Library receives generous assistance from stakeholders who serve as members of boards, committees and advisory councils and from those who represent user groups. All aid in the development of policies and services.

Facilities
The South Carolina State Library facility at 1430 Senate Street houses Talking Book Services, the Library Development Department and Administrative Offices. The State Library's facility directly across the street (1500 Senate Street) is known as the Information Resources Center and houses the Information Services Department, the Network Services Department and the Technical Services Department. The 1430 building also houses a fully accessible reading room for citizens with disabilities, and the 1500 building has computer workstations, with Internet access, and other information and research resources available for use by the public. Meeting rooms that accommodate up to 65 persons are available in the 1430 building and are used not only by the State Library but also by other state government agencies and library organizations. The 1500 building houses a fully equipped computer training room. All State Library services and operations are open to the public, Mondays–Fridays, 8:30 am–5:00 pm. A voice messaging system is available 24 hours a day.

Customer Needs Assessment

The State Library periodically conducts formal user satisfaction surveys to determine customer needs. Survey results are used to establish future service directions. In FY 2002, a survey was done to determine the extent of the use of Internet filtering in South Carolina's public libraries. As the survey was done prior to the aforementioned Attorney General's opinion, it was found that the majority of public libraries relied on use policies rather than filtering and those that utilized filtering did so at a much lower percentage level than mandated by the Attorney General's opinion. The results of this survey allowed the agency to prepare for extensive consultative staff time to assist public libraries in complying with the state's filtering proviso. Filtering software was installed on State Library public computers in August 2001.

Other surveys included one designed to determine the availability of TDDs (Telecommunications Device for the Deaf) in South Carolina's Public Libraries and a satisfaction survey of the registered readership of the Talking Book Services program. The latter resulted in extensive follow up with readers to make adjustments to individual borrower accounts. 83% of survey respondents rated Talking Book Services as excellent.

When appropriate, the State Library also provides assistance to other agencies seeking survey information from the state's public libraries. The agency's automation librarian, at the request of the state CIO, made contacts with public libraries and provided consultative assistance to ensure completion and return of a rather complicated State Department of Education technology survey. State Library automation staff submitted recommendations for the improvement of the survey instrument.
